Lee, the lawyers are adamant there is little room to manoeuvre. I attach their advice. In short we have the licence to 2008, the product developed by PH Creative and DIL is not scaleable and has many weaknesses, it is better for us to commission our own product after the pilot is completed and ensure GLA/LDA has full ownership and we don't therefore need Bryan's source codes. I have asked the lawyers to make an offer to him in full and final settlement of all his complaints but without purchasing any consultancy or licences. This is going to be to the value of about £26k. This written offer will be with him tomorrow. I've emailed him to advise him.

His main concern was accessing his files which were on the server we acquired from the liquidator as these related to other clients. We have agreed to release these this week.

Bryan, let's have a telephone conference next week. I'll ask my P.A to fix this.
