Manny

FYI. This is extortionate. Please advise of your views.

We don't need any monthly contract with him and we don't need the source code. We are paying him for nuisance value and the non-disclosure agreement. Given the events with staff members I am extremely reluctant to be seen to be making a deal as generous as this.

Thanks

Brenda

Dear Brenda,

I have recieved your offer. It's closer, but it's still not good enough I am afraid.

If we can draw line under the matter quickly I will accept the following.

£66,000 broken down as £4,000 for 4 months consultancy fees and £50,000 for the source code.

I will give you the domain names for free and I will sign a non-disclosure agreement if required, however in return I would like to be put on the approved supplier list and have my files returned (some websites are using a
